Xtatix Freefone FM

We played with one of these last year and they made a good running companion. Essentially, it's a screenless MP3 player inside a pair of light headphones. Well, they've upgraded this little fellow with an FM tuner and 1GB of flash memory. Potentially good for running on the treadmill and listening to the TV piped over the FM band, perhaps? $89.99 with rebate.

I have a pair of headphones that are pretty much these w/o the FM tuner. They're really great aside from the fade in/ou that happens every time you skip a song.
